Agreed to.

26. Ms N D Nkondlo moved without notice: That the House notes the oversight visit undertaken on 25 May 2026 by members of the Standing Committee on Agriculture, accompanied by Ward Councillor Jacob Zalie and local stakeholders, to farms in the Wolseley area of the Witzenberg Municipality that were severely affected by recent natural disasters; further notes that the delegation met with both farmworkers and farmers to assess the extent of damage to homes, agricultural infrastructure and crops, and to understand the immediate and long-term challenges facing affected communities better; acknowledges that the visit highlighted the urgent need for support measures to assist affected residents, including emergency shelter, the restoration of damaged infrastructure, and interventions aimed at protecting livelihoods and ensuring food security in the region; expresses deep concern that six families that were displaced by the disaster were found living in a cold storage facility under difficult conditions, underscoring the vulnerability of farmworker communities and the need for urgent humanitarian assistance; recognises the efforts of Councillor Jacob Zalie, community leaders and other stakeholders who have worked tirelessly on the ground to support the affected residents during this difficult period; affirms that meaningful oversight requires not only identifying challenges, but also ensuring that appropriate action is taken to address them; and calls on the Minister of Agriculture, Ivan Meyer, to engage urgently with the affected farmers, municipalities and relevant departments to ensure that adequate relief reaches affected communities, and to take all necessary steps to prevent the eviction of farmworkers and their families during this harsh winter season.

27. Ms R Windvogel moved without notice: That the House welcomes the rollout of Lenacapavir, a groundbreaking long-acting HIV prevention injection, at 22 healthcare facilities across the Western Cape, particularly in communities with a high HIV burden; recognises this important scientific advancement as a valuable addition to the fight against HIV and Aids and a significant step towards expanding prevention options for vulnerable populations; further notes that, while this intervention offers renewed hope in reducing new HIV infections, its success will depend on sustained investment in public healthcare, community awareness programmes, adequate staffing and the expansion of access to all communities across the province; further notes that the Western Cape continues to face significant challenges relating to HIV infections, particularly among young people, women and vulnerable communities, and that scientific breakthroughs alone cannot overcome the social and economic inequalities that continue to drive the epidemic; and therefore calls on the provincial government to ensure that the rollout of Lenacapavir is rapidly expanded, adequately resourced and integrated with broader HIV prevention, testing, treatment and education programmes to ensure that no community is left behind in the fight against HIV and Aids.

Agreed to.

28. Ms R Windvogel moved without notice: That the House notes the commemoration of Children's Day on 1 June 2026 and Child Protection Week, which serve as important reminders of our collective responsibility to protect, nurture and advance the rights and well-being of all children; further notes that children in the Western Cape continue to face significant challenges, including poverty, hunger, malnutrition, abuse, neglect and violence, with far too many children growing up in circumstances that undermine their development, dignity and future prospects; acknowledges the important role of the Western Cape Commissioner for Children as an independent institution established to protect and promote the rights, needs and interests of children and to hold government accountable for policies and services affecting children; recognises the role played by progressive forces and child-rights advocates in championing the establishment of this important office; expresses concern that, despite the existence of this office, ongoing resource constraints and institutional limitations continue to hamper its ability to realise its mandate fully and to respond effectively to the growing challenges facing children across the province; further notes that child hunger and malnutrition remain a serious concern, with evidence showing that stunting continues to affect children's physical development, educational outcomes and future economic opportunities, while many vulnerable households struggle to provide adequate nutrition for their children; recognises that recent incidents involving the killing of children and acts of violence against children are a stark reminder that much more must be done to create safe environments in homes, schools and communities; calls on the provincial government to prioritise child protection, to strengthen interventions aimed at combating hunger and malnutrition, to support families and caregivers, and to ensure that institutions tasked with advancing children's rights are adequately empowered and resourced; and reaffirms that every child has the right to safety, dignity, adequate nutrition, quality healthcare, education and the opportunity to reach their full potential.

Agreed to.

29. Mr M B Ngqentsu moved without notice: That the House notes with profound shock and concern the brutal triple murder shootings in Lower Crossroads and Langa, which claimed the lives of six people in two separate incidents over a single weekend; further notes that, in Lower Crossroads, three men were gunned down while seated at a fruit and vegetable stall, while in Langa three men were shot and killed at a braai stand, leaving families devastated and communities living in fear; further notes that these horrific incidents are yet another reminder of the persistent scourge of violent crime, gang-related violence and the easy availability of illegal firearms that continues to terrorise communities across the Cape Flats and other township areas; notes that residents have repeatedly called for increased police visibility, intelligence-driven policing and sustained crime prevention interventions to restore safety and public confidence; recognises that the continued loss of life in working-class communities cannot be normalised, and that every resident has a constitutional right to live in safety and security; and therefore calls on all spheres of government, law enforcement agencies and community stakeholders to intensify efforts to combat violent crime, to strengthen police resources in crime hotspots, to remove illegal firearms from communities, and to ensure that those responsible for these senseless killings are swiftly brought to justice.
